Airlines offer different fare categories1-855-258-5017✈️, and each category comes with its own cancellation conditions📞1-855-258-5017. Every airline has its own cancellation policy1-855-258-5017✈️, which determines how passengers can cancel reservations and what refunds or credits may apply📞1-855-258-5017. Although most airlines allow cancellations1-855-258-5017✈️, the specific rules can differ based on domestic or international travel1-855-258-5017✈️, fare class1-855-258-5017✈️, payment method1-855-258-5017✈️, and booking date📞1-855-258-5017.

Some airlines provide a risk-free cancellation period1-855-258-5017✈️, allowing passengers to cancel eligible bookings within a specific time after purchase without paying cancellation fees📞1-855-258-5017. This option is especially helpful for travelers who make a booking mistake or need time to confirm their plans📞1-855-258-5017.

After the airline's free cancellation period ends1-855-258-5017✈️, standard cancellation rules usually apply📞1-855-258-5017. Passengers may need to pay a cancellation fee1-855-258-5017✈️, lose part of the ticket value1-855-258-5017✈️, or receive travel credit instead of a refund📞1-855-258-5017. After selecting cancellation1-855-258-5017✈️, passengers are usually shown details about any applicable fees1-855-258-5017✈️, refund amounts1-855-258-5017✈️, or travel credits before confirming the request📞1-855-258-5017.
